

WKBD-TV
Public Affairs Programming
October 1- December 31, 2007

Attached are listings of broadcast segments that in the station's judgment, reflect the most significant programming of ascertained issues during the preceding three month period.

Michigan Matters

A weekly half-hour, locally produced, news magazine show which focuses on controversial issues concerning Metro Detroit

For My People

A weekly local program produced by Project B.A.I.T. (Black Awareness in Television).

WKBD Quarterly Issues & Programs List

October 1, 2007 – December 31, 2007

| Date | Duration | Issue/Topic Explanation |
|------|----------|-------------------------|
|------|----------|-------------------------|

Program: Michigan Matters

10.07.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

Host, Carol Cain discussed various topics with Saul Anuzis and Mark Brewer, leaders of our State's two political Parties. Denise Ilitch, Derrick Miller, and Brooks Patterson join Carol Cain for the Roundtable and Final Viewpoint segments.

10.14.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick and Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson discuss race and regionalism in part one of the first Pancakes and Politics series. O.A.D. 4/9/06.

10.21.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick and Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson discuss race and regionalism in part two of Pancakes and Politics. O.A.D. 4/9/06.

11.18.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

For the next two weeks Michigan Matters abandons our normal format as we go one-on-one with the last two leaders of our state. There's a lot of rhetoric and rancor over what Jennifer Granholm created, or what John Engler left behind, with respect to where our state finds itself today. Carol Cain will discuss results of the tumultuous budget season with Governor Granholm, how we got there, and where we go from here in this show.

11.25.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

For this week's program, we go one-on-one with former Gov. John Engler on November 24th following up last week's program with Governor Granholm.

12.02.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

Noted commentator and now rumored as a possible presidential candidate, Lou Dobbs has utilized the forum of television journalism to become an opinion maker himself. Today on Michigan Matters, we'll talk to the longtime CNN newsman about journalism, politics and, his personal role in shaping the debates in America. Plus the Roundtable of Denise Ilitch, Derrick Miller and L. Brooks Patterson, reconvene after a couple of weeks absence, to catch up on the news of the day, as well as offer their Final Viewpoints

10.28.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

This weekend on Michigan Matters, from budget talks and auto talks to politics and lawsuits, the Michigan Matters Roundtable of L. Brooks Patterson, Denise Ilitch, and Cliff Russell join Carol Cain to discuss the biggest news stories of the past few weeks in Metro Detroit.

11.04.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

After a career of accomplishments, the Chief Information Officer of the City of Detroit, Derrick Miller, leaves the public sector and begins a new chapter in his life. This weekend on Michigan Matters Carol Cain will find out what's going on with the Michigan Matters regular before she's joined by Denise Ilitch and Saul Anuzis for the Roundtable and Final Viewpoint Segments.

12.30.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

This weekend on a special edition of Michigan Matters, the Regular crew of Carol Cain, Denise Ilitch, L. Brooks Patterson and Derrick Miller will review all the ups and downs of 2007 before focusing our attention on 2008 and then offer their final Final Viewpoints for 2007.

11.11.07 00:30:00 ECONOMY

This weekend on Michigan Matters, Carol Cain will explore Michigan's film and movie industry and its economic impact on our State with Janet Lockwood from the Michigan Film Commission, Screenwriter Jim Burnstein, and noted broadcast journalist, entrepreneur and spokesperson, Emery King. Saul Anuzis and Doug Rothwell join Derrick Miller and Carol Cain on the Roundtable and Viewpoint segments.

12.16.07 00:30:00 ECONOMY

This week on a special edition of Michigan Matters. L. Brooks Patterson, Denise Ilitch, Jim Epolito and Bob Ficano join Carol Cain to discuss global competition and Michigan's prospects for the future. Plus, Carol Cain previews her upcoming special on China, "Building Bridges: From the Great Lakes to the Great Wall" airing Sunday, Dec 16 at 11:30pm on CBS Detroit. Parts two and three of "Building Bridges: From the Great Lakes to the Great Wall" air Tuesday, Dec 18 and Wednesday, Dec 19 at 6pm on CBS Detroit.

12.23.07 00:30:00 ECONOMY

WWJ-TV presented a special three part series called "Building Bridges From the Great Lakes to the Great Wall" which focused on Michigan and the economic and educational bridges being built to China. This weekend on Michigan Matters, host Carol Cain gets feedback from the series and the topic as she chats with John Carroll, senior Vice President of the Detroit Regional Chamber, and Mark Gaffney, Michigan AFL-CIO President. Plus, the regular Roundtable of Derrick Miller, Denise Ilitch and L. Brooks Patterson are here to offer their thoughts on the topic and, other news of the day, before offering their Final Viewpoints.

12.09.07 00:30:00 COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

This week on Michigan Matters we talk with DIA Director, Graham Beal about the recent reopening, the $153 million in renovations and the future of the arts community in our region. Plus, Brooks Patterson, Denise Ilitch and I are joined by Jim Epolito on the Roundtable and Final Viewpoint segments.

| Date | Duration | Issue/Topic Explanation |
|------|----------|-------------------------|
|------|----------|-------------------------|

Program: For My People

10.13.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

For My People presented an analysis of the Republican presidential candidates response to participation in political forums sponsored by black organizations and issues of primary concern to the black electorate. On the local scene FMP discussed the state and city government and judicial response to the closing of the casinos during the budget crisis and the control of political response based on tax revenue. In closing, Lawrence X presented his African Report focusing on the geo-political relationship and military actions involving Ethiopia as a surrogate for U. S. policy in East Africa.

10.27.07 00:30:00 POLITICAL

This program opened with the African Report with Lawrence X discussing the Sudan and the direction the government is going, either to a sovereignty conference or a state of emergency while being subjected to the influence of China with respect to their oil trade, and X closed the show with a discussion of confusion in Africa with regard to national borders which were drawn during the colonial period and are still causing conflict and civil war. David Rambeau, news analyst, discussed Khaos in K-ville focusing on the civil judgments against the city of nearly $10 million and the burden this will place on tax-payers, and he also discussed the development of the state budget and its being influenced by casino tax revenue which undermines the development of the people and the state economy.

10.20.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

Zen Braswell, Director, Considine-Little Rock Family Life Center discussed services the organization provides to the community and the area. Detroit School Board candidate, Tawana Simpson discussed her background, community involvement and issues facing Detroit public schools. David Rambeau and Ron Scott discussed the economic and social consequences of legalized gambling in an urban community. The weekly African Report presented by Lawrence X, focused on the Horn of Africa and the political and social relationships between Africans and Arabs.

11.03.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

On this edition of FMP news analyst David Rambeau, discussed the quality of city services in Detroit and the bureaucratic slowness to respond to complaints. He discussed the role of the mayor and the city council in the payment of financial judgments in civil suits against city officials and the burden these place on taxpayers. He also discussed favoritism by city commissioners to friends and connections and the need for electoral reform to deal with this abuse of power. And finally, Lawrence X provided his weekly African Report in which he discussed current affairs in the Sudan, the cease-fire efforts and the role of the government and rebel organizations in the negotiation process.

11.10.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

On this edition David Rambeau, discussed patterns of abuse, verbal, physical, psychological and financial, against Detroit city employees, and the recent Detroit School Board election and the changes of board members with new implications for school policy and practices. Lawrence X, in his African Reports, discussed the upcoming Kenyan national elections, peace talks in the Sudan, the Rwandan communications conference, the book, "African Fundamentalism" by Tony Martin, Garveyism and the implications of these for the current generation, as well as the child kidnapping case by French citizens in Chad.

11.17.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

On these editions of For My People David Rambeau discussed the exceedingly slow response of Detroit officials to citizens' requests for service, the huge judgments against Detroit officials, the Mayor and the police, and who should pay for these tax burdens, and he discussed the Khaos in K-ville around the tax breaks given to rich property owners which is a function of appointed commissioners who should be elected by the residents of the city and thus under their control. And Lawrence X provided his African Report in which he discussed the Kenyan national election, the attempts at Sudanese peace negotiations complicated by tribalism, the Somalian/Ethipian conflicts and the development of a Rwandan Internet conference.

12.01.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

On this edition of For My People David Rambeau, news analyst, discussed the new Walter Mosley novel, Blond Faith, exploring Mosley's role as an urban historian and griot through literature. Rambeau also reviewed the recent Detroit School Board election, including the need to the expansion of democracy through the election of the deputy mayor, the police chief and city commissioners. In addition, Lawrence X presented his weekly African Report in which he discussed the Kenyan political concept of Majimbo, or power to the people, through democratic electoral devolution to the grass-roots. Ron Scott participated in a review of city employment requirements through a simulated Detroit test application.

12.22.07 00:30:00 PUBLIC AWARENESS

We discussed in the African Report, the European Union - Africa Summit where they discussed reparations for centuries of exploitation and imperialism, and trade and economic development on the continent. In the other segments we discussed Kwanzaa as a cultural celebration within the African-American community, and domestic violence and its political implications, and finally the black male as father, role model, survivor, teacher and cultural transmitter.

10.06.07 00:30:00 EDUCATION

Detroit Schools: Charter vs. Public. Education choices, declining enrollment and school funding is discussed this week on For My People. We also discuss several civil lawsuits against Detroit by former employees and the financial problems the city faces.

Lawrence X focused on African peacekeepers and their role in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, in Chad, Rwanda and the Sudan.

12:15.07 00:30:00 EDUCATION

For My People discussed the Black Atlantic, a scholarly book and giving books as gifts. The African Report takes a look at the European Union, African Summit and the British boycott of the Summit because of the inclusion of Robert Mugabe. We explore the social crisis in Zimbabwe and trade manipulation. Locally, we discuss Matt Allen, former city of Detroit executive charged with domestic abuse.